

ReStore Warehouse Organizer

Honolulu Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit affordable housing organization that partners with low-income families on Oahu to build or improve a place to call home.

General Summary: Our volunteering Restore warehouse organizer plays a key role in merchandising and organizing ReStore's salesfloor and warehouse space. This volunteer position is for an organizer, somebody who enjoys merchandising and maintaining order. When customers can easily find what they need, every purchase helps fund our mission to build affordable homes on O'ahu.

Reports to: Restore Supervisor

Responsibilities:

- Responsible for maintaining an organized and neat salesfloor
- Helping customers find items in warehouse and keeping warehouse safe, clean, and organized
- Stocking items and pricing donations that are received
- Decluttering and organizing products that are already on the floor

What You Bring to the Team:

- Ability to merchandise products and organize large quantity of products
- You enjoy the process of organizing and take pride in a finished job
- Ability to work in a warehouse that is not climate controlled. Whatever the weather brings we show up for it
- People person, willing to help customers when they ask for assistance
- Quick learner, able to follow directions and take initiative and work on their own

Time Commitment:

- Would prefer a time commitment of 1 shift a week
- Shifts Available: 10:00am – 1:00pm, Wednesday, Thursday, or Saturday

What You Gain

- Great opportunity to be a part of an amazing team doing great work
- Contribute directly to Honolulu Habitat for Humanity's mission
- Volunteers receive a discount to all ReStore's sale floor items
- Get to listen to great music while you work (We've got great taste in music!)

Interested? Contact:
Volunteer Services, volunteer@honoluluhabitat.org
808-777-4137